AUTO AND PET SHOW HERE SATURDAY

75 LATEST MODEL CARS WILL BE VIEWED HERE AT ANNUAL AUTO SHOW

With more than 75 of the latest model 1935 cars on display, the annual Tribune-Motor Car Dealers Auto Show will open Saturday at the side entrance to the courthouse at 2 p.m. It will continue until 10 o'clock that same evening, giving everyone an opportunity to inspect the new models.

Besides the displays of cars, there will be several special factory demonstrations in operation as well as a talking picture and other features.

A separate division of commercial trucks will be on display. The auto show will start immediately following the pet show parade, staged by the Redwood City Humane Society. The cars will participate in the parade and then will take their places on the "show grounds."

Last year more than 5000 people visited the auto show and with continued good weather it is hoped for an increase in this attendance to set a new record.

WORN-OUT TIRES ARE DANGEROUS

Increased driving on highways in this vicinity especially over week-ends, emphasize the necessity of added precautions on the part of motorists to avoid accidents, according to Walter Lynch, local Goodwill tire dealer.

"Carelessness is the cause of most accidents," says Mr. Lynch, "and many of the mishaps attributed to this cause could be avoided by taking advantage of the protection afforded by good tires."

"Blowouts, punctures and skidding contribute to the alarming toll of deaths and injuries on the highways. But good, sound tires, such as the Goodyear G-3 All-Weather, reduce these hazards to the minimum."

"Any tire, of course, can be punctured, but tires with a good tread pattern still intact are much less likely to be punctured than smooth, worn tires."

Mr. Lynch offered to test any tire free of charge.

Air Transports Fly Higher Than Birds

United Air Lines' fleet of Boeing multi-motored transports operated over the airway serving this city can fly higher than any bird, show tests made with the transport and announced today by local traffic representatives.

According to The American Museum of Natural History, migratory birds usually average about 3000 feet altitude above the ground. The highest bird flier is the Condor, whose haunts in the Andes are 10,000 to 16,000 feet. The highest recorded Condor altitude was 23,000 feet, observed by Humboldt, the naturalist, over Chimborazo.

The Boeing, carrying thirteen people, mail and express, can fly, if called upon to do so, at an altitude of 27,500 feet, although its normal cruising altitude, because of passenger comfort, is 8000 to 10,000 feet.

The Boeing, with only one of its two engines in operation, can climb to an altitude of 11,500 feet, which is considerably higher than practically all birds can fly under full power, says the company announcement.

Kreye, Mrs. Ayer's Father, Dies in S. F.

Adolph Kreye, father of Mrs. W. E. Ayer of Redwood City, died early Sunday morning at 1 o'clock at his home in San Francisco. Mr. and Mrs. Ayer were called to San Francisco Saturday afternoon.

The deceased was 61 years old, was a native of Hanover, Germany, and came to this country 45 years ago. In 1911 he moved to San Francisco where he operated his own bakery. He retired from the bakery business several years ago and became interested in mining in and around Sonora.

CLUB DISCUSSES SUBJECT OF YOUTH

Bogie Declares Home Must Be Center Of Training

Because the regular meeting room of the Redwood City Toastmasters' Club was in use at the high school, the club met for its regular monthly meeting at the Methodist Church with the women there in charge of the dinner.

The central theme of the three speakers was "Youth." Donald Bogie spoke on "There's No Substitute for Parents in the Bringing Up of Youth." He pointed out that the broken home was an outstanding cause for youth getting off on the wrong track and then cited examples of parents who were making a real success in developing fine characters in their sons and daughters through their interest and participation in the activities.

Earl Whitaker spoke on "The Handicaps That the Schools Are Under in the Prevention of Crime." Lack of finances to have a staff of men competent to follow through on problem cases, such as psychiatrists; lack of cooperation from homes in many cases, and lack of a set-up of extra curricular activities, he said, tied the hands of the school in many cases.

He pointed out that athletics had to be carried on by leaders on a volunteer basis. He commended Young Men's Christian Association for the part that it is playing in sports and inter-school activities for the schools in the section.

"Why Your Boy Should Attend Camp" was the ten-minute talk given by Roy A. Hoberger. Camp, he said, offered to parents an opportunity for building the boy in health and his ability to get along with others. The development of a personality which would make the boy better able to make his place among his fellows was one of the major aims of the camps, he said.

R. E. O'Connell Jr. introduced the speaker and Virgil Anderson gave constructive criticism of the speeches.

OCEAN SHORE HIGHWAY BID CALL AWAITED

Coast Union Informed State Will Complete Details Soon

Call for bids within two weeks on the second unit of the Ocean Shore highway from Thornton station to Edgemar is anticipated by the state highway commission, members of the Coastside Civic Union were informed at a gathering in the Half Moon Bay Hotel Tuesday night.

C. C. Jenkins of Montara read a telegram from Earl Lee Kelly, public works director, that complete details were not yet decided, but that the work was being pushed forward. Ray P. Higgins, Salada Beach, told of an interview with Col. John H. Skeggs, division engineer, in which it was stated that bids would be advertised for in about two weeks. Skeggs informed Higgins that a $114,000 appropriation has been included for the work.

George O. Rich of Vallejo reported that Charles F. Humphrey, San Francisco attorney and Pescadero rancher has invited Governor Frank Merriam and other state officials to a barbecue on his place in June in the interest of the project.

Superior Judge Maxwell McNutt and Mrs. McNutt were guests of the union last night. Judge McNutt declared the coastal area one of the most picturesque in the state and a place where the spirit of hospitality always prevails.

THREE PROJECTS APPROVED
The $10,001 Sand Hill road project, the $221 Las Lomas sewer improvement, and the $2790 Memorial Park sewer project, were approved Monday by the board of supervisors.

Liquor Resorts Declared Safe Against Zoning

Disputed Places Now Inside Established Business Area

That the San Mateo County Planning Commission will be without authority to rule out the liquor houses in the "no man's land" zone just south of Atherton and opposite the Menlo Junior College was indicated today.

The area, it is recalled, was zoned for business uses in November, 1933, and the liquor establishments fell into that category. Relief could be had, it is held unlikely that the planners would take such a step.

Because of the urgency of the question, the possibility of a special meeting of the planning board may be held shortly, it was reported. The commission met only last Friday and would not ordinarily meet again for four weeks.

The matter of zoning was referred to the planners for a recommendation by the board of supervisors on Monday. The county supervisors at that time did not commit themselves for or against the liquor places.

It is understood that the only possible course for the junior college and the City of Atherton to take to close up the liquor places would be in an appeal to the state board of equalization.

The state board has set up restrictions against liquor places adjacent to schools. The appeal to the state board would be to enforce its own regulations.

Kiwanians Here Observe Opening Of Convention

All Kiwanis Night, marking the opening of Kiwanis International Convention at San Antonio, Tex., was celebrated Monday night at the Sequoia Hotel by the Redwood City club at a special dinner program. Members and their wives attended.

Acting President Lee Irwin presided during the fellowship hour at which time, the opening speech by International President Dr. William J. Carrington from the convention hall was heard over a national radio hook-up.

During the remainder of the program Herman Phillips acted as chairman. The program included a humorous skit written by Jules Lutge. Members of the cast were four bridge players, Mrs. Norris Cummings, Mrs. Henry Beezer, Mrs. James Hedge and Mrs. Charles Morse. Duncan Reynard played the part of "Mrs. Asa Hull" and Sam Winklebeck, "Mrs. Phonse Liguore."

Mrs. Jake Buehler gave several monologues and a "rube dance." Two songs were sung by Mrs. Elmer Morrish, and Jack Lessard played two solos on the trumpet.

The club's delegate to the international convention is Clarence Dossie who is now in San Antonio. He intends to visit friends and relatives in Iowa following the convention sessions.

LEROY AND MICHAEL

San Luis Obispo Boy and Pet Dog Enter Local Show

Last minute instructions for children wishing to enter pets in the Humane Society Parade and Pet Show Saturday at the Central school grounds, were issued today by Mrs. J. E. Ryan, president.

Entry blanks for the show can be obtained from teachers at the schools, or at the show grounds Saturday, she announced. For each animal entered there will be a fee of 10 cents.

Dogs, Mrs. Ryan said, must have a collar and be on a leash. Cats should not be carried free in the owners' arms, as there is danger of the animal becoming excited and scratching or escaping.

Water dishes should be brought for each animal. All pets, the humane officer announced, must be on the school grounds not later than 11 a. m. Saturday.

She urged all children who have and love pets to take advantage of the opportunity offered to display them.

Latest entry in the show is the dog of Leroy Harris Dart Jr., aged 4, who is coming all the way from San Luis Obispo.

Leroy and his pal, "Michael," are never separated from each other. They have been together since "Roydie" was 2 and Michael just six weeks old.

A display window at the chamber of commerce office is being installed by Mrs. Ryan this afternoon to call attention to the pet show and parade. Trophies, cups and prizes are arranged so they may be seen by the public and possible contestants.

Transactions Of Bayshore Board Okehed

Grand Jury Foreman Absolves Group Of Charges

Following a thorough airing of all transaction records of the Bayshore Sanitary District Board Wednesday at a closed session of board directors, District Attorney Gilbert Ferrell and County Jury Foreman Floyd Tower, the board was absolved of all charges of alleged graft in connection with the dumping of San Francisco garbage in San Mateo county.

Tower, emerging from the meeting which lasted more than two hours, said:

"We were unable to find even the suspicion of a scandal in connection with the conduct of the sanitary board and the issuance of the garbage disposal permit."

The future status of the garbage question remained in abeyance, however, as various members of the board expressed a division of opinion.

MAY ACT FRIDAY
W. H. Pettigrew predicted that the board itself will on the advice of its attorney, Samuel J. Jones, revoke the controversial permit issued to the San Francisco Scavengers Protective Association. He intimated that such action to revoke the permit would be made on Friday or Saturday of this week.

George W. Stone, another board member, stated emphatically that the garbage permit could, and would, be revoked. He stated that minutes of the board would serve as a memorandum to the contract to show that the intention of the board in first issuing the contract was to give the instrument a life of only 18 months.

Foreman said the grand jury would meet again on Wednesday, May 29, to consider routine business and reports. The garbage disposal matter would not be brought up again, he indicated, unless on the advice of District Attorney Ferrell.

Local Artist's Works Go to San Diego Fair

John Linus, Redwood City artist, is holding an exhibition of his landscapes and marine paintings in Palo Alto this week, following which his exhibit will be on display in San Francisco.

Linus is completing a series of California mission paintings at his studio here. Several of these will be shown at the San Diego exposition.

Dry Zone Question Put Up to Planners

The request for zoning of a half-mile area surrounding the Menlo School and Junior College to bar liquor establishments was submitted to the San Mateo County Planning Commission by the board of supervisors Monday.

POCKET BLADE Aids Coast Fisherman TO KILL OCTOPUS

Archie Woodhams, 40, employed at San Mateo County Memorial Park near La Honda, today was advising all would-be fishermen to carry pocketknives with them.

It was a sturdy collapsible blade that enabled Woodhams to emerge successfully from a fight with a huge octopus Sunday while he was prying abalone off the rocks on Columbia beach near Pigeon Point.

The octopus, measuring 9 feet 9 inches from tip to tip, suddenly emerged from a pool, threw a tentacle about Woodhams' arms and began wrapping itself about him.

As he tried desperately to retain his balance on the slippery rocks, the La Honda man managed to draw his knife and began to hack and stab.

After a prolonged battle in which several tentacles were severed, Woodhams finally freed himself.

Joseph Lemacher, also of La Honda, who had accompanied Woodhams on the expedition, was fishing from nearby rocks but failed to hear shouts from his friend.

NAVY TO RETAIN SUNNYVALE AS IMPORTANT AIR STATION ADMIRAL STANDLEY DECLARES

Exact Type of Craft To Be Housed There Still Uncertain

Gray-haired Adm. William H. Standley, chief of naval operations and highest ranking officer in the United States Navy, gave assurances late Tuesday afternoon during a visit at Sunnyvale that the navy will not abandon its Sunnyvale air station.

The station's present "inoperative status" will be maintained for the time being, Admiral Standley said, pending whatever decision is to be made as to its future use.

What the future holds for the Sunnyvale base in the way of land plane or sea plane activity or lighter-than-air development is altogether uncertain, the admiral pointed out.

"You can't expect a hurried decision on the lighter-than-air question," Admiral Standley commented in a conversation in the Sunnyvale station. "Members of the scientific advisory committee who are now studying the problem are responsible men who are not going to express their opinions lightly."

"I can't talk about the value of lighter-than-air ships when all our dirigibles are at the bottom of the sea. Frankly, I'm not enthusiastic."

Only a few hours before Admiral Standley's visit, the station by automobile from San Francisco, the last of the little non-rigid blimp J-4 had left in packing boxes en route for Lakehurst, N. J., where it will be re-assembled.

Dismantling of the J-4 finally terminated for the present all lighter-than-air activity at Sunnyvale.

Admiral Standley said that so far as he knows there are no plans now under way to establish a heavier than air base at Sunnyvale.

"If there is going to be a land plane base in this area," he said, "however, this would seem to be the logical base."

FLEET SHIPS COMING
The admiral said that one might expect visits of considerable numbers of naval planes later in the summer following return of the navy from its Pacific maneuvers.

When America's two new air-plane carriers, the Yorktown and Enterprise, are commissioned in 1936 or 1937, Admiral Standley pointed out, land base facilities must be provided for their planes. Sunnyvale's facilities will naturally be considered.

Reverting to the subject of lighter-than-air, Admiral Standley said that you have to decide first of all whether airships can be built to stay up in the air, before discussing their value to the navy.

What about Germany, he was asked. "The Graf Zeppelin has been flying regularly across the Atlantic."

"How many airships has Germany built?" Admiral Standley countered. "One hundred and twenty-eight. Only one of them is now flying."

It was already late when I turned towards home, thinking that my okolehau cocktail would taste very good to me after my active day, and that I should greatly enjoy the relaxation of a quiet evening. Then I heard that there was basketwork at a coveted kind for sale at a cottage that I had seen in the morning.

I met Anne Eoleyn, who picked a breadfruit and gave it to me to take home for my supper. She also promised to come and dance for me.

It was about two hours later that a small, dark, and very handsome, presented itself on my lanai, with an offering of leis made of pansies. The grandmother, quite evidently the mistress of ceremonies, was dressed in a thin crisp holoku. (Mother Hubbard) cut with a characteristic flowing train. A single lei of blossoms fell over her manly breast; and establishing herself, with composure and dignity, in a large chair, she directed the selection of dances which her granddaughters performed, accompanying them, as they rendered these, with a pleasant humming and an occasional clapping.

The elder girl, who played the ukulele, was attractively though rather conventionally dressed in a hula of stiff fibre and an orange satin blouse; but Anne Eoleyn, since my afternoon visit, had gone out in the garden and picked a new green dress, and worn these into a fresh green skirt, which rustled delightfully as she danced, and fell gracefully away from her slim brown knees and small crossed feet when she sat down to rest.

This is Anne's first program. Her dances are very simple, her grandmother said in modest disparagement. But her eyes were bright with pride as they rested on the child. And well they might be. Poised like a bird on her tiny toes, her slim arms extended, her dainty fingers pointed, her wreathed head erect, Anne slipped into the rhythm of dance so swiftly and so naturally that she seemed to personify the melody of motion. Her pliant wrists twinkled, her flexible ankles flashed, her little form swayed and sparkled. At one moment she was a figure of undulating languor; at the next the embodiment of lissom virility. The elements of earth and air, fire and water, with which her simple life is intermingled, the sweet flowers which are her constant companions, the friendly creatures with whom she plays, drowsiness, awakening, slaked thirst, satisfied hunger, merris, excitement, rest, rapture—all these she interpreted, becoming, in turn, the incarnation of each.

This is the hula as it was first conceived, as at its inception, it was danced throughout the Islands—a spontaneous expression of joy, or a celebration of some royal rite. Distorted, cheapened, commercialized as it has since sometimes become, especially on the mainland, nothing can really rob it of its intrinsic beauty and deep significance.

Anne Eoleyn, blithe daughter of rue tradition, reveal yourself to others as you have to me!

TRAGIC DEATH IN UNDERPASS CAUSES SUIT

Girl, Whose Mother Was Killed, Asks For $10,287

Aftermath of an automobile tragedy in the South San Francisco underpass a year ago which cost the life of her mother, Dorothy Phillips of San Francisco today filed a damage suit for $10,287 against three state employees.

The defendants, Elmer Aifkin, L. Kahrmann and W. H. McConds, were cleaning and washing down the walls of the underpass, using large quantities of soap and water, Miss Phillips states in her petition.

She alleges that they negligently and carelessly allowed the soap suds to render the surface pavement of the Bayshore highway to become slippery and dangerous to the extent that the car her mother, Mrs. Julia Phillips was driving and in which she was a passenger, skidded and crashed into the wall.

Mrs. Phillips, the petition charges, died as a result of injuries received in the accident. The daughter is her sole heir.

Atlantic.

"How many airships has Germany built?" Admiral Standley countered. "One hundred and twenty-eight. Only one of them is now flying."

Bickering Hinders Growth

It is hoped San Mateo County may soon recover from the effects of the political muddle it has been plunged into by certain officials.

The peninsula is the most prosperous place in the State and is growing rapidly in population. The continual bickering of its officials can retard the progress of this favored locality.

Harmony among the constituted authorities and a spirit of co-operation by all citizens are certain to bring results. No county in the State has more advantages and none is richer in natural resources. For Heaven's sake let there be peace!

Drs. Herre and Seal Have Theories

COLLEGES NOT BLAMED, EITHER

Two famed scientists, whose names are more or less indicative of the branch of science they study, were at odds today over the reasons for the recent report of so many octopuses found on the San Mateo county coast.

Dr. Alvin Seal, director of the Steinhart aquarium in San Francisco, champions the Mexican migration theory. He believes a sudden shift of ocean current or more abundant food has lured the octopi north.

But Dr. Albert W. C. T. Herre, curator of the zoology museum at Stanford, scorns Dr. Seal's theory. He is backed up by Dr.

Tage Skotsberg of the Hopkins Marine Laboratory of Stanford. Dr. Herre claims that it's not that the octopus has become more—but that the abalone hunter has become more, and worse! "It's probably just that there are more abalone hunters, and that they are going out deeper," Dr. Herre believes. "The octopus has always been there, but he hasn't been stepped on so often before."

All three professors were unanimous in denying any collegiate rivalry prompted the differences of opinion! Dr. Seal is a University of California man, while the other two are Stanfordites.

SLOT MACHINE QUIZ QUIET

Although the grand jury was reported watching the "slot machine racket" in this county after Foreman Floyd Tower had reportedly received a letter from District Attorney Earl Warren of Alameda telling of investigations there, no developments in the situation were recorded today. Sheriff James J. McGrath said he was constantly seeking devices and would "bring them in" when located.

MENLO PARK

The San Jose Mercury-Herald on Sunday carried a story relating to the early history of Palo Alto. Some space was given to the lonely redwood tree near the railroad bridge at the entrance to the city. The tree's twin sister fell many years ago but in what year this tragedy took place no one seems to know, although research has been made into all existing records.

All old timers disagree as to the time. The tree, now nearly 2000 years old, is approaching the end and may topple at any time. The city of Palo Alto is doing its utmost to preserve the old landmark that has an interesting and romantic history.

It was under the branches of this tree that Don Gaspar de Poy, tola camped on his return from the discovery of San Francisco bay. It was here, also, that Captain Anza camped on his way to establish Mission Dolores.

In early days the Indians gathered here to worship, believing their god dwelt at the top of the ancient redwoods.

Many legends are connected with the Palo Alto redwood, which, like all earthly things, may soon pass.

Early days of Menlo Park were recalled here on Monday during a visit by Bert Clute, who was the Southern Pacific agent in this city 30 years ago.

Clute recalled the days of the Stanfords, Feltons, Floods and Doyleys and many interesting incidents in connection with these peninsula pioneers.

Following the death of Senator Leland Stanford, the telegraph office, then located in the depot, was so flooded with messages of condolences from all parts of the world that three operators were pressed into service working day and night.

Clute, for more than 25 years, has been an operator for the San Francisco Fire Department.

Miss Catherine Reynolds was given a birthday party by her many friends at her home on Wednesday. Miss Reynolds is one of Menlo Park's prettiest girls.

Miss Carol Fabrick, aged 12 years, died last Friday at her home on 17th avenue. The little girl was the idol of her parents and her companions at St. Joseph's School. The funeral took place on Monday from the Church of the Nativity and interment was in Holy Cross Cemetery. The boys of her class at school acted as pallbearers.

Menlo Park Native Daughters celebrated their 18th birthday Wednesday night with a dinner which was held in a Middlefield road cafe. The dinner was followed by a theater party. About 20 members attended.

John Chuck, who won first prize in the high school group for the Poppy Poster he submitted to the Menlo Park American Legion, this week was awarded District first prize honors. Thomas Gordon who competed in the grammar school group won honorable mention. Thomas' poster is so unusual that Florence Chess, Department Poppy Chairman, said she would take it with her to the national convention this summer. Both posters will go to the State convention in Fresno.

On Saturday, the local unit will participate in the annual poppy selling program. All proceeds will be sent to the non-compensated patients who made the poppies in government hospitals.

Mrs. J. Diebels of Menlo Oaks was hostess at a farewell party given this week for Mrs. John J. Doyle who has moved to Redwood City. About 40 guests were present.

Six delegates and alternates have been named to represent Menlo Park Post No. 443 at the State Convention of the American Legion in August. They are: Commander Bill Raethel, George B. Condos, Philip Blanchard and Bernard Larrecou, Dan Sullivan and Thomas J. White, alternates.

Mrs. W. H. Weeden and her grad daughter, Emma Roberta Lindquist, are in Vallejo this week with Mr. W. H. Weeden, who is attending the Grand Parlor as delegate from Menlo Park Parlor, Native Sons of the Golden West.

Miss Meta Kugeler is in Sacramento this week attending daily sessions of the State legislature. Menlo Park Post and Auxiliary of the American Legion have been invited to attend memorial services at Burlingame Tuesday, May 28, at 8:15 p. m. Department Americanization Chairman Merritt Brady is in charge of the program and Isabelle Weeden Lindquist, County Council Auxiliary Musician, is arranging music for the occasion.

Mrs. Peter Bush entertained at a delightful luncheon this week for eight friends at her home on Berkeley Way.

Board, Kellogg Removal Power Bound Together

Removal power of County Executive Walter Kellogg and the board of supervisors affecting appointive county officers is linked and cannot function separately, attorney for County Engineer Carl Scott declared today in a five-page brief filed with Superior Judge Maxwell McNutt.

Attorney Fred Comba and Kirkride and Wilson on behalf of Scott declared that a four-fifths vote is also required for removal. Comba said that an adverse decision may result in an attack on County Engineer Urban Marshall's residence status. The attorney said some question had arisen over whether Marshall was actually residing at Burlingame.

Joseph Bullock, attorney for Marshall, declared "Scott might as well step out of office now as he is going out anyway."

Oil Station Held Up By Two Armed Thugs

Two men Tuesday night at 10:25 o'clock robbed a Standard Oil service station in Burlingame of $13 after sticking a gun in the attendant's ribs and ripping the telephone box off the wall to delay a call for help.

The men drove into the station at Junipero Sera avenue and El Camino Real in a coupe, one of them asking the attendant, L. Bernhardt, of San Francisco, for five gallons of gas. The other then climbed out of the machine and menaced Bernhardt with a gun, forcing him into the station.

Opening the cash register, the bandits secured approximately $13 in cash, ripping the phone from the wall before driving off. The attendant sent word of the robbery to police by passing motorists. First to arrive on the scene was Constable George Kreil of Colma. A few minutes later Deputy Sheriff John Simpkin of Redwood City arrived.

Fred Frank Given Parole By McNutt; Friends Intercede

Yielding to the entreaties of relatives and friends, Superior Judge Maxwell McNutt Monday paroled Fred Frank, scion of a wealthy and influential Portland, Ore., family, to the custody of Bert Haney, former United States District Attorney in that city.

Judge McNutt on Saturday sentenced Frank to the Preston State Industrial School at Ione on statutory charges involving two Palo Alto girls, whose ages were given as 12 and 16 years.

Civil suits, totalling $100,000, are pending against young Frank. They were brought by Mrs. Elizabeth Parks, mother of Beverly Parks, 12, and Mrs. Elizabeth Skretas, guardian of Margaret Dabbett, 16.

Gasoline consumption in 1934 increased 7.63 per cent over 1933.

Big Basin Liqueur Sales Ban Praised

Measures passed by the state legislature to keep liquor out of the California State Redwood Park in Big Basin yesterday drew high praise from the Santa Clara County League of Women Voters meeting at San Jose.

Mrs. Maude Glasson, of Los Altos, speaking before the body especially praised the work of Assemblyman H. Devey Anderson of Cupertino, for his work in securing passage of the statute.

Lumbermen say the only remaining forest of virgin red cedar in the United States stands near Lebanon, Tenn.

'Good' Investments Sought By Legatee

Because she charges that trustees of the estate under which she is named a legatee have "mingled" a trust fund amounting to $6,895 with their own individual property, Mary G. DeGear today filed suit in the superior court. She asks that the trustees, Edgar, Frank L. and Asa D. McLellan, in compliance with the will of the late Mary Belle McLellan, her sister, invest the trust fund sum "in good safe loans."

PROPERTY HEARING SET
A motion to vacate and set aside orders setting apart exempt property to Mrs. Eleanor Amphlett, widow of the late Horace Amphlett of San Mateo, was filed in the superior court here today. A hearing has been set for 10 a. m., May 25.

TURNBULL WILL MADE CENTER OF $70,000 LITIGATION HERE

Charges that Jessie Condon, niece is reported to be living in Australia.

Turnbull was widely known for his interest in San Mateo county schools. The Turnbull Grammar School in San Mateo was named after him and shortly before his death he established a scholarship for that institution. This is said to be the only grammar school scholarship in the United States.

PROJECTS BOARD CALLED
Protesting action of the plans and projects committee in insisting that a maintenance district be formed at Montara before more sewer work is done, supervisors Monday called upon the group and Engineer E. B. Bailey to appear before the board.

Bayshore Residents Form Political Bloc

Articles of incorporation were filed here today by the Bayshore District Residents' Association of Bayshore City. The group, organized on a non-profit basis, purpose "to appraise, educate and inform the public on political matters, problems and subjects."

Seven persons are named as directors. They are: William R. Markt, Matthew Little, Walter Cain, John Abercrombie, Joseph Franzen, Ernest A. Durbin and Charles J. Quinn.

South End Bay May Be Named 'San Jose'

First proposed about two months ago, a movement is now in progress both in Washington, D. C., and here, to have the lower portion of San Francisco bay below Dumbarton bridge named San Jose bay. The suggestion was made when deep water port committee-men made a launch trip to inspect the port site.

Two letters have been received by J. M. Silvey, manager of the San Jose chamber of commerce, from John J. McGrath, representative from this district, regarding the change of name. In a letter dated May 1, McGrath tells Silvey: "I consider it an excellent idea and I shall start unwinding the red tape. As soon as I have any definite information you will hear from me."

This is the recipe for the surprise pie demonstrated at The Tribune cooking school by Miss Barbara Miller.

"Chocolate Sundae" pie

TUNE IN on VIC & SAGE
every weekday
except Saturday
over KFO
at 11:15 A. M.

A surprise in its deliciousness. A surprise, too, in its wholesome digestibility when you make the pastry with digestible Crisco.

1 cup evaporated milk 1/2 teaspoon vanilla
1/2 cup water 3 egg whites, beaten stiff
1/2 cup nutmeg 1 cup sweetened whipped cream
3 egg yolks 1/2 cup granulated sugar
1/2 cup granulated sugar 1/2 cup grated unsweetened chocolate or
1/2 teaspoon salt 2 tablespoons ground chocolate
3 tablespoons cold water

Digestible Crisco pastry (see master recipe)

Heat milk and 1/2 cup water in double boiler with nutmeg. Beat egg yolks with sugar and salt until light. Pour the hot milk over the egg mixture; return to double boiler and cook until the consistency of thick cream. Remove from heat; add the gelatin which has been soaking 5 minutes in cold water. Add vanilla. Cool. When cool and ready to set, beat with Dover egg water and fold in the stiffly-beaten egg whites. Pour this delicate fluffy mixture into an equally delicate baked Crisco pie shell. Set in refrigerator. When thoroughly cold cover with the sweetened whipped cream and sprinkle top with the grated chocolate.

CRISCO PASTRY (Master Recipe)

1 1/2 cups flour 1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup Crisco 4 to 6 tablespoons water

Sift flour and salt together. Work in Crisco (the pure, digestible shortening). Add cold water, one tablespoon at a time, using just enough to hold mixture together. Roll pastry 1/8 inch thick on lightly floured board. Cover inverted pie-plate with pastry. Trim dough so that there will be enough to fold under to make a firm double edge. Prick bottom and sides with fork to prevent bubbles and distortion while shell is baking in hot oven (400°F) for 15 minutes. Crisco digests quickly.

$50,000 BASE PLEDGE HINGES ON LEGALITY

Board Submits Matter To Ferrell to Rule On Old Debt

Whether or not San Mateo county will meet the "gentleman's agreement" to pay $50,000 toward the Sunnyvale airbase purchase likely will depend upon the legal obligation involved, it was indicated Monday by action of the board of supervisors.

Supervisor John Poole, Redwood City, declared his opposition to paying the sum because he said San Francisco had failed to fulfill its promise to hire San Mateo county men on the work. He said peninsula men were "ignored."

"I don't think they lived up to their agreement, either," Poole said, when the letter of the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce calling attention of the county's failure to meet the debt was read. B. R. Funsten, president of the San Francisco chamber, signed the request.

Supervisor Albert Witt, Colma, asked whether the old board's obligation and he said in order to avoid lawsuits, the matter should be ruled upon by District Attorney Gilbert Ferrell. On motion of Witt and Supervisor Walter High, Burlingame, the question was submitted to Ferrell for a ruling.

The supervisors' pledge was written to District Attorney Gilbert Ferrell, insisted that no valid reasons had been cited for Scott's ouster and condemned the action as "political scheming."

The Palo Alto Property Owners' Association also protested the board's action on Scott's ouster and asked that the action be rescinded.

The engineering situation was on the calendar of Superior Judge Maxwell McNutt's court for hearing this afternoon.

SACRAMENTO, May 23 (UP)—California's legislators went to work for nothing today.

The pay of $12 a day stopped last night when the 10-day period of legislative pay ended.

From now on, the state will give them nothing. They must pay their hotel, meal and other expenses from what they have saved or are receiving from other sources.

The session will extend beyond June 1, legislators feared, even if procrastinating habits are dropped and fast work attempted.

During legislative years, the assemblymen and senators are paid their $1,200 annual salary in a period of 100 "working" days. In other years, they receive $100 a month.

It was pointed out by Hinman that such registration easily could be done if a man would swear to a false affidavit.

It would be virtually impossible, not to say exceedingly expensive, to check all registrations to determine if every voter were a citizen, Hinman said. As a result he does not contemplate making a check here, he said, preferring instead to believe there are few if any such illegal registrations.

GIVEN 90 DAYS

Fred Hoppe, 28, San Francisco, was sentenced to spend 90 days in the county jail to be followed by two years' probation when he appeared before Superior Judge Maxwell McNutt Monday. Hoppe was charged with having committed a burglary.

Bitten four times by a 14-inch, two-button rattler he mistook for a common garden snake, J. J. Thiebaut of 1445 Guerrero street, San Francisco, was in a serious condition at the Palo Alto Hospital today.

Thiebaut was one of a party of a dozen picnickers enjoying afternoon near Portola in San Mateo county. While eating lunch, two women members of the party spied the snake, and in their anxiety to get away nearly stepped on it, it was reported. Thiebaut thought the reptile was of a common garden variety, and picked it up a few inches behind its head.

Before he realized the snake was a rattler, it had stung him four times on the right wrist. Members of the party applied a tourniquet and rushed Thiebaut to the hospital.

Thiebaut is a paper box maker and well-known sportsman, it was reported.

The United States imports more than $4,000,000 worth of embroidery from the Philippines each year.

REFUNDING BOND PLAN MAY SOLVE 1915 DEBT

Councilman McCarthy Tells of Two Plans Which May Lighten Load on Taxpayers

Prospects of an early solution of Redwood City's $150,000 1915 bond debt was foreseen Monday when the city council gave study to assembly bills Nos. 662 to 668 which deal with the issuance of refunding bonds to permit property owners to retain their holdings by giving an additional five to 10-year period to meet defaulted payments. This type of financing, City Councilman Paul McCarthy explained, would virtually wipe out the present grave problem faced by the city.

The council agreed by a 4 to 3 vote, however, that interest payments up to July 2, 1935, must be provided for in the 1935-36 tax rate. This will take an estimated 15 to 20 cents.

TAX LEVY UNCERTAIN

No final decision as to the amount of the special tax levy will be made until September, however, and in the meantime the council hopes to get the refunding plan in operation.

Opposition to direct taxes and preferences for a general obligation bond to lighten the $150,000 debt by spreading it over a 15-year period was voiced by Councilmen Evans Fletcher, James Eva and Louis Christensen, who favored this procedure to direct taxes, but they agreed that the refunding bond scheme, if workable, would be the best solution.

McCarthy declared that the refunding bond plan would leave the debt against the property whereas a general obligation bond would be a debt of the whole city. In the case of the 1915 improvement act bonds, the supreme court recently ruled the whole city liable for defaults.

SECOND PLAN TOLD

McCarthy also outlined a second possible plan for meeting Redwood City's situation, by telling what has been done in Sacramento. There a real estate department has been set up and property owners have been interviewed in regard to their ability to meet the improvement payments.

In cases where hopeless defaults had occurred owners were induced to quit claim the property to the city. The property was then offered for sale and some $75,000 worth has been sold during the first 10 months of operation. This placed the property back on the assessment roll.

The council agreed that a plan similar to Sacramento's would be an alternative to the refunding bond plan if the latter is not approved by the legislature. The refunding bond plan has been approved by the legislature and is now before senate committees. Passage of the plan is expected as no opposition has been noted to this type of act.

DATA TO BE SECURED

Immediate start of a study to determine the exact status of each improvement was agreed to by the council so that one of the two plans could be put into operation. Councilman Robert Jones, in putting the motion that interest be met up to July 1, 1935, said he desired that this end the need of direct taxes to meet the situation. His motion was seconded by Councilman McCarthy.

The council split on its familiar 4 to 3 lines on the vote.

City Treasurer B. E. Myers was thus authorized to assure those exerting pressure on the city that at least their interest would be met this year.

Legumes will not add nitrogen to the soil unless the entire plant is plowed under at maturity, agricultural experiments have shown.

TWO FOREST FIRES OCCUR ON WEEK-END

Efficiency of Signal System Established In First Tests

Dry summer weather and the menace of the heaviest undergrowth reported in the Coast Range Mountains in recent years brought the peninsula's annual fire menace home Sunday as county crews led by Fire Marshall Bert W. Werder were summoned to battle two fires in the mountain country west of here.

The first blaze, a brush fire on Kings Mountain summit near the Skyline boulevard, was quickly circled and permitted to burn itself out, Werder said.

The second fire occurred in slashing and waste timberland near the Philbrooks Mill. Timber hands employed by the mill had the conflagration under control after a three-hour fight.

Werder said today that both fires proved the efficiency of the new fire control system extending from Felton, near Santa Cruz, to San Francisco. An inter-locking patrol telephone system is enabling county and state crews, CCC camps and district fire departments to work on a co-ordinated plan for fire prevention and control.

The new Saratoga gap ranger station, under the jurisdiction of the State Division of Forestry, will be ready for operation on or before June 1, State Forester William Winters declared today. Crews are now being quartered there.

Decree Is Granted Mrs. Mary Nachtheim

Mrs. Mary Nachtheim was granted an interlocutory decree of divorce from her husband, Leslie F. Nachtheim, when she appeared before Superior Judge Aylett Cotton here today. Mrs. Nachtheim based her complaint on the grounds of extreme cruelty.

Utility Survey Hearing Held

Order May Shortly Be Made Directing Value Study

Second hearing on Redwood City's request for an order to evaluate the electrical distribution system of the Pacific Gas and Electric Company was held before the state railroad commission in San Francisco Tuesday. Counsel for the P. G. and E. attacked the city's petition as faulty in description and sought an order to force an amendment.

If the order is denied, the evaluation engineers of the railroad commission may be in the field shortly.

Commissioner Frank Devlin, after hearing the city's case, set September 24 as the tentative date for submission of the evaluation data. This was taken as indicative of early success of the city's plea to have the study made.

The city council voted to place the $3,000 for the evaluation survey to the credit of the railroad commission engineers in anticipation of the early order to proceed.

Councilman Paul McCarthy moved, Councilman Robert Jones seconded, that the fund be put at the disposal of state engineers. Opposition was voiced by Councilmen Evans Fletcher, James Eva and Louis Christensen. Mayor Charles Lambert and Councilman George McNulty gave approval in a recorded 4 to 3 vote.

Redwood City's effort to acquire the utility centers upon a desire to obtain the profits of the private electric system for the benefit of the public.

City Attorney Albert Mansfield and City Manager E. A. Rolison attended Tuesday's hearing.

Local Realty Board Opposes Transfer Tax

Disapproval of either ad valorem tax or a transfer tax was voiced Tuesday in a telegram sent by Henry Witte to the California State Real Estate Board at Sacramento.

This was the sentiment of a meeting of the Redwood City Real Estate Board held at the Fox Shoppe today at noon.

The only alternative offered by the local board was that in the event of a necessity for a transfer tax it not be more than the present federal transfer tax.

PAINTERS HURT FALLING
William A. Gross, 27 Elwood, and L. E. Doolittle, 37 Hyde, were injured Tuesday when a scaffold on which they were painting broke and they plunged 12 feet to the ground. Both had sprained ankles, and Gross incurred a lacerated hand. The two men were treated at the Mason Emergency Hospital.

City Orders Purchase Of New Steam Roller

Purchase of a steam roller—the first in nearly 20 years—was approved by the city council Monday night. The present roller, according to City Engineer Charles Dimmitt, has been rebuilt several times and is not worth the effort again.

City Manager Ernest Rolison informed the council of the chance to buy an almost new roller for $2,500 and the old roller, which was given a trade-in allowance of $500. The roller which the city was offered cost $4,500 new.

City Councilman Paul McCarthy and George McNulty looked upon the buy as "good business" and Rolison was authorized to acquire it.

Lost Fist Fight, Now Wants $5000 For Damaged Face

The merchants' fistfight title of the San Mateo-Burlingame area may rest on the shoulders of E. E. Phillips, Burlingame lumberyard owner, but Walter Casey, of Millbrae Highlands, vanquished contender, believes he suffered damages amounting to $5,000 in his defeat.

The bout, it seems, occurred on January 28 in Phillips' lumberyard, according to a complaint filed here today by Casey, proprietor of a delicatessen store in Millbrae. He charges Phillips with "violently and maliciously assaulting" him and striking him with his fists in the face.

The $5,000 damages sought, represents among other things, Casey's alleged physician's fees.

Auto Race title winner, and Kelly Pettito, leading contender for the 1935 Pacific Coast title, who left Los Angeles last week to continue their neck and neck race for popular favor at Indianapolis, where they will burn up the track in the Memorial Day race. Mays and Pettito are two of the drivers who will use Gilmore gasoline in their cars in the world-famed Indianapolis event.

With high hopes of returning with championship laurels from the Memorial Day 500 mile classic at Indianapolis, Kelly Pettito and Rex Mays rival contenders and popular favorites in Pacific Coast auto racing, put the final touches on their cars last week and left for the East to make final arrangements for entering the great battle of speed at the Indianapolis track on May 30th. Pettito, who is "top" at present in number of points chalked up for the 1935 Pacific Coast A.A.A. race title, is regarded as one of the most likely candidates for first money in the Indianapolis race. Mays who won the 1934 A.A.A. Pacific Coast title and is a close runner up in the 1935 Coast standings, stands equally high in popular favor. LAWYERS HIT FOR HANDLING OF SCOTT CASE

McNutt Says Little Effort Being Made To Solve Issue

Criticism of attorneys handling the litigation involving the county engineering post was voiced by Superior Judge Maxwell McNutt at the hearing Monday afternoon of District Attorney Gilbert Ferrell's motion to strike certain lines from the complaint involving "conclusions of law."

McNutt charged that the attorneys were not assisting him in settling the question as to just what the charter provides regarding removal of officers.

The court expressed a wish to eliminate "personnel" from the question and declared that he was not interested in Urban S. Marshall, engineer-appointee, or Carl R. Scott, county engineer under fire of the supervisors. McNutt denied Ferrell's motion to strike. The case remained under submission.

Later the faculty members, and members of the board of trustees, who were also present, played bridge and danced.

70 MENLO PARK LOTS ON BLOCK TO PAY TAXES

Immediate steps to liquidate real estate holdings in Menlo Park's six tax delinquent improvement districts will be taken within the next 10 days W. R. Hoag, of the firm of Lyon & Hoag, informed City Attorney James T. O'Keefe Jr. today.

Hoag said his firm plans to take this step to raise money to meet tax delinquencies amounting to between $5,000 and $6,000. Seventy lots owned by the firm are located in Stanford Park.

These holdings will be offered to the public at sacrifice prices. Hoag continued. Money so derived will be pooled and applied to payments on the delinquencies.

The Lyon & Hoag holdings form a large portion of the area involved in Menlo Park's street improvement bond controversy. Payment of the bonds, totalling $14,000, has been ordered by the state supreme court through a general tax assessment.

Hunt Unknown Japanese Hero Of Bay Rescue

Jack O'Brien, 33, Burlingame service station employee, today was searching for an unidentified Japanese youth who saved his life Sunday afternoon in San Francisco bay waters near the peninsula beach pier.

O'Brien had gone to the rescue of 7-year-old Nick O'Brien, son of Daniel O'Brien, 703 South Fremont Street, San Mateo. Alvin H. Wright, Burlingame bank employee, had plunged into the bay to assist in the rescue when Jack O'Brien was stricken with cramps. Wright carried the 7-year-old boy ashore and the unidentified Japanese rescued the elder O'Brien, no relation to the lad.
